ABOUT THE LUTTERWORTH PRESS

The Lutterworth Press is one of the longest-established independent British publishing houses. We have been trading since the late eighteenth century and have built up a worldwide reputation for publishing high quality books written by distinctive authors.

Originally founded as the Religious Tract Society, publishing activity was initially related to the areas of religion and children's literature, and the Press published such perennial favourites as The Boy's Own Paper and The Girl's Own Paper. It soon added educational and adult non-fiction.

We aim for the highest quality, blending information, instruction and high production standards, to present the best of non-fiction.

Ian Ridpath, well-known astronomy writer and broadcaster, has been intrigued by the myths of the stars for many years. Star Tales is the first modern guide to combine all the fascinating myths in one book, illustrated with beautiful and evocative engravings.

In this book, Brian Cronin suggests using the method of introspective description to identify the characteristics of the act of human understanding and knowing. Introspection - far from being private and unverifiable - can be public, communal, and verifiable. If we can describe our dreams and feelings, then, we can describe our acts of understanding. This is a detailed account of human knowing, an extremely valuable contribution to philosophy and a solution to the foundational problem of knowing.

THE DECORATIVE DESIGNS OF C.F.A. VOYSEY

NEW REVISED EDITION: FROM THE DRAWINGS COLLECTION OF
THE ROYAL INSTITUTE OF BRITISH ARCHITECTS

By Stuart Durant

Charles Francis Annesley Voysey (1857–1941) was one of the pivotal figures in the development of the Arts and Crafts movement in the late-nineteenth and early-twentieth centuries. In addition to his work as an architect, he was also well-known for his furniture and textile designs. The Decorative Design of C.F.A. Voysey is the first book to showcase Voysey's designs, and to place him and his work squarely in the context of his times.
