Contents

Contributors / vii

Acknowledgments / ix

Introduction—Richard R. Cook and David W. Pao / xi

Abbreviations / xvi

1. Modern Evangelicalism and Global Christian Identity: Promise and Peril as Seen through the Eyes of a North American Church Historian—Douglas A. Sweeney / 1

2. Missions, Cultural Imperialism, and the Development of the Chinese Church—Ka Lun Leung / 23

3. Overcoming Missions Guilt: Robert Morrison, Liang Fa, and the Opium Wars—Richard R. Cook / 35

4. Chinese Evangelicals and Social Concerns: A Historical and Comparative Review—Kevin Xiyi Yao / 46

7. “Holy War” and the Universal God: Reading the New Testament Conquest Accounts in a Postcolonial Setting—David W. Pao / 112
Contents

8 The Group and the Individual in Salvation: The Witness of Paul—Frank Thielman / 136

9 Boundaries in “In-Christ Identity”: Paul’s View on Table Fellowship and Its Implications for Ethnic Identities—Maureen W. Yeung / 154

10 “Who Am I?” Theology and Identity for Children of the Dragon—Robert J. Priest / 175

11 Chinese Contextual Theology: A Possible Reconstruction?—David Y. T. Lee / 193

12 Forging Evangelical Identity: Integration of Models of Theological Education in the Global Context—Carver T. Yu / 220