

Contents

Abbreviations	x
Illustrations	xi
Author's Note	xii
Timeline	xiii
Objects of the Mothers' Union	xix

Introduction: Mary Sumner: Her Life and Work, Perspectives, Sources, Interpretations 1

Chapter 1: Thinking Mary Sumner with Bourdieu: Habitus, Field, Capital, Pedagogic Authority, Symbolic Violence and Reproduction 12

Part 1: Religion

Chapter 2: A Family Affair: Mary Sumner, Religious Habitus, Evangelical Enthusiasm and Anglican Advocacy 31

- 2.1. Family life, living religion, capital assets and symbolic gifts
- 2.2 Anglican advocacy and contested authority in the field of religion
- 2.3 Synopsis: religious habitus and capital

Chapter 3: Anglican Motherhood for Church and Country: Mary Sumner, Religious Networks and the Mothers' Union 53

- 3.1 Introduction
- 3.2 Mary Sumner's wider habitus, networking to establish the Mothers' Union
- 3.3 The Mothers' Union as an Anglican organisation: women in the Church, capital and field
- 3.4 The province of women: morality, motherhood, marriage, the symbolic capital of purity
- 3.5 The patriotic Mothers' Union: Church, state and claims to territory in the field of power
- 3.6 Synopsis: wider habitus, transactions of capital, entering the field

Part 2: Mission

Chapter 4: Home and Abroad: Mary Sumner and Traditions of Philanthropy, Evangelical Religion and Civilising Mission 89

4.1 Introduction

4.2 Philanthropy and mission in family life; parochial philanthropy via organisations 1851 to 1886

4.3 Travels in the 'East': Mary Sumner in the 'contact zone', the habituated gaze, religious and cultural capital

4.4 Mary Sumner: habitus, wider network, and mission via the Girls' Friendly Society

4.5 Synopsis: capital assets and 'missionary' habitus

Chapter 5: Mary Sumner, Missionary Mothers and Imperial Aspirations 121

5.1 Introduction

5.2 Mary Sumner: women's mission, the Mothers' Union, and the field of philanthropy

5.3 Mary Sumner and the Mothers' Union: missionary identities at home and overseas, missionary organisations, colonies and contact zones, and attitudes to indigenous members

5.4 Mary Sumner, the Mothers' Union, empire and the Church overseas

5.5 Synopsis: pedagogic authority and symbolic violence and field manoeuvres

Part 3: Education

Chapter 6: 'Education Begins at Home': Educational Habitus, Childhood and Childrearing 149

6.1 Introduction

6.2 Mary Sumner's experience of childhood, educational capital, attitudes to women and education, educational activism in her kinship network.

6.3 Educational context, parochial work and initiatives relating to educational habitus and Mary Sumner's horizons of possibility

6.4 Mary Sumner's notions of childhood and child rearing

6.5 Synopsis: educational habitus and capital values

Chapter 7: Spreading the Word: Educating the Populace 173

7.1 Mary Sumner, a popular educator

7.2 Leading by example: education in mothering for all classes

- 7.3 The power of reading: education through the Mothers' Union magazines
- 7.4 Education matters in the Mothers' Union: networking with other agents and resistance to secular education
- 7.5 Synopsis: Mary Sumner's manoeuvres in the field of education

Chapter 8: Mary Sumner: Agency and Constraint, Reproduction, Symbolic Violence and Changes in the Doxa 201

Tables 214

- Table 1: Activists in the Mothers' Union and GFS
- Table 2: Episcopal Contacts of George and Mary Sumner
- Table 3: Wording of Mothers' Union Cards

Appendices

- Appendix 1: Mary Sumner's Speech to the Portsmouth Church Congress 225
- Appendix 2: Biographical Notes on Women Activists 228

- Primary Sources 235
- Bibliography 239
- Index 251