

CONTENTS

AUTHOR'S PREFACE (TO THE GERMAN EDITION)	9
TRANSLATOR'S NOTE	13

BOOK I: THE PROBLEM

SECTION I—NATURAL MORALITY

CHAPTER I. The Problem of the Good: an Imperative Challenge	17
„ II. The Phases of the Immanent Moral Understanding of the Self	21
„ III. Morality and the Religions of the World	29
„ IV. The Rationalization of the Moral in Philosophical Ethics.	34
„ V. The Deepening of the Problem by the Deepening of the Contradiction	44

SECTION II—THE CHRISTIAN MESSAGE AND NATURAL MORALITY AND ETHICS

„ VI. The Christian Message as the Revelation of the Good	53
„ VII. The Christian Interpretation of the Contradiction as Sin	61
„ VIII. Justification by Grace alone as the Removal of the Contradiction and the Foundation of the Good	68
„ IX. The Definition of the Christian Ethic	82
„ X. The Christian Ethic: Past and Present	94

BOOK II: THE DIVINE COMMAND

SECTION I—THE WILL OF GOD AS THE BASIS AND THE NORM OF THE GOOD

CHAPTER XI. The Divine Command as Gift and Demand	114
„ XII. The Command of the Creator and Redeemer	122
„ XIII. The Unity and the Variety of the Divine Command	132
„ XIV. The Threefold Meaning of the Law	140

THE DIVINE IMPERATIVE

SECTION 2—THE NEW MAN

CHAPTER XV.	The New Man, as Created and Claimed by God	152
„ XVI.	Goodness and the “Virtues”	163
„ XVII.	Self-Affirmation and Self-Denial	170
„ XVIII.	The Better Righteousness	179

SECTION 3—THE NEIGHBOUR

„ XIX.	Service	188
„ XX.	The Calling	198
„ XXI.	The Natural Orders and the Kingdom of God	208
„ XXII.	Service as an “Office” and as a Personal Relation	220

SECTION 4—THE WORKS OF LOVE

„ XXIII.	The Active Life as a Gift and a Demand	234
„ XXIV.	The Hallowing of the Means by the End	249
„ XXV.	Autonomy, Natural Law, and Love	261
„ XXVI.	Success and Progress	280

BOOK III: THE ORDERS

INTRODUCTION	291
------------------------	-----

SECTION I—THE INDIVIDUAL, THE COMMUNITY, AND THE ORDERS OF SOCIETY

CHAPTER XXVII.	The Individual and the Community	293
„ XXVIII.	Religious and Moral Practice as Limiting Cases of the Moral	308
	A. Our Relation to God in the ethical sense: Religious Practice	309
	B. The Relation to the Self: Moral Practice	314
„ XXIX.	Life in Love	320
„ XXX.	The Natural Forms of Community	330

SECTION 2—THE COMMUNITY OF LIFE: MARRIAGE AND THE FAMILY

„ XXXI.	The Fundamental Problem of Marriage	340
	1. The Crisis of Marriage	340
	2. The Argument for Monogamy: the Creation	342
	3. Marriage as it is in Reality	350

CONTENTS

CHAPTER XXXII. Individual Problems connected with Marriage . . . 356

1. Marriage, Love, and Law 356
2. Divorce and Celibacy 359
3. Marriage and Children 367
4. Marriage and the Economic Question . . . 371
5. The Emancipation of Woman, and the Relation between the Sexes apart from Marriage 373

SECTION 3—THE COMMUNITY OF LABOUR

„ XXXIII. Labour and Civilization 384

„ XXXIV. The Nature and the Task of the Economic Order 395

1. The Economic Order as a Problem of Ethics 395
2. Economic Life as an Infringement of the original Order of Creation 398
3. The Norm of the Economic Order 400
4. The Evil in the Economic Order 409
5. The Individual Economic Factors from the Ethical Point of View 411

„ XXXV. The Christian in the Present Economic Order . . 416

1. The Christian and the Capitalist System . . 416
2. The Search for a Better Order 426
3. The Task of the Christian within the Present Economic System 433
4. The Task of the Church in the Economic Struggle of the Present Day 437

SECTION 4—THE COMMUNITY OF THE PEOPLE AND OF LAW

„ XXXVI. The Nature of the State 440

1. The Riddle of the State 440
2. The State as a God-given Order of Sinful Reality 444
3. The Power of the State 446
4. The Law 448
5. Law and Force 452
6. The Nation and the State 454
7. The State in its Relation to the other Forms of Community 457

THE DIVINE IMPERATIVE

CHAPTER XXXVII. The Acting Christian in the Acting State

1. The Attitude of the Christian towards the State 460
2. The Christian and "Reasons of State" 462
3. The Christian and the Form of the State 465
4. The Christian and Force: the Problem of War 469
5. The Christian and the Penal Law 474

SECTION 5—THE COMMUNITY OF CULTURE

„ XXXVIII. The Christian in the Community of Culture 483

„ XXXIX. Science 491

„ XL. Art 499

„ XLI. Education 504

„ XLII. The Free Forms of Community 517

SECTION 6—THE COMMUNITY OF FAITH

„ XLIII. The Nature of the Church 523

1. The Church of Faith 523
2. The Church as both Divine and Human 527

„ XLIV. The Church in Action 539

1. The Church and the Churches 539
2. Church Order and Church Law 545
3. State Church, National Church, Free Church 549
4. Church and State 552

„ XLV. The Action of the Church 555

1. The Functions of the Church and the Offices of the Church 555
2. False and True Ecclesiasticism 562

NOTES AND APPENDICES 569

INDEX 721