

INDEX

Prologus:	page:
The Importance of Studying Sacred Scripture (text: Eph. 4:7–16)	{1}
Recent Encyclicals	{3}
Scripture Study in the Code	{6}
Special Obligation of Clerics and MONKS to Study Scripture	{6}
St. Jerome on the Same Subject	{7}
Texts on Obligation of the Priests to Study Scripture	{9}
I. St. Paul
II. The Apocalypse	{10}
III. St. Peter	{13}
IV. St. John	{14}
a) His Gospel (Joa. 5:19 to end)
b) Life-giving Power of God's Word (Joa. 6, 8:37–59)	{17}
The DISPOSITIONS with Which We Should Approach the Study of Scripture	{18}
I. Samaritan Woman at Jacob's Well	{18}
II. Spiritus Paraclitus on St. Jerome	{20}
1. Love of the Bible
2. Sacrifice and Hard Work	{21}
3. Deep Spirit of Faith (Submission to Authority)	{22}
4. Daily Study
5. End in View: Spiritual Perfection
Scholion: Avoid Foolish Questions	{25}
 A MONASTIC INTRODUCTION TO SACRED SCRIPTURE
Part One: Biblical Inspiration	{27}
Definition; Elements

I. The Existence of Inspiration
Possibility of Revelation	{28}
Necessity of Revelation
Criteria of Inspiration
The Jews and Inspiration	{31}
Texts on the Existence of Inspiration (2 Tim. 3:16; 2 Pet. 1:20)	{32}
Proofs from Tradition:
1. Fathers
2. Magisterium (Councils and Modern Popes)	{35}
II. The Nature of Inspiration	{37}
1. Definition
2. What Inspiration IS NOT:
a) Deficient Opinions
b) Excessive Opinions	{38}
3. Distinctions between Inspiration and Different Forms of Mystical Experience	{39}
A. Active Inspiration	{42}
B. Passive Inspiration
a. THE INTELLECT:
Kinds of Judgement in Inspiration	{46}
Theoretical Judgement
Practical Judgement	{47}
b. THE EXECUTIVE FACULTIES:
Memory	{48}
Imagination	{48}
III. The Extent of Inspiration	{50}
1. General Extension
2. The Question of Verbal Inspiration	{52}
in broad sense	{52}
in strict sense
IV. The Effects of Inspiration	{53}
INERRANCY
Its Implication in Exegesis	{55}
Particular Problems:

Bible and Science	{56}
Bible and History	{57}
Part Two:
The Canon of Sacred Scripture	{62}
Apocrypha	{65}
The Old Testament Canon	{66}
Threefold Division of Old Testament Books	{68}
Formation of Old Testament Canon	{69}
The LAW
Fitting Discussion of Ember Days in Canonicity	{75}
The PROPHETS	{80}
The Monastic Vocation—Its Analogies with the Prophetic Vocation	{83}
Christian Canon of Old Testament	{90}
The New Testament Canon	{93}
Part Three: Texts and Versions of the Scriptures
Critical Reconstruction of Old Testament Text
The Hebrew Text	{95}
Its History	{97}
Texts of New Testament	{99}
Cistercian Copyists	{101}
Greeks Mss. of New Testament (The Four Families)
The SEPTUAGINT	{103}
Latin Versions of the Bible
1. Pre-Jerome
The VULGATE	{105}
Sts. Augustine and Jerome
History of Vulgate Text to Council of Trent	{108}
Versions—New Testament	{109}

Part Four: The Interpretation of Sacred Scripture	{111}
Hermeneutics
1. Noematics:
Sense and Signification
Documents of Holy See (St. Jerome's Teaching)	{114}
The LITERAL Sense	{117}
Allegory (Matthew 5:13)
Parable	{121}
The Implicit Sense of Sacred Scripture	{123}
The Typical Sense (Spiritual) of Sacred Scripture	{129}
St. Thomas on This Topic (Outline): Summa Theologica , I, Q. 1	{130}
The Existence of Types in Old Testament Proved in New Testament	{133}
Theology of Exodus in Old Testament	{135}
Theology of Exodus in New Testament	{136}
Index	{139}

The End

Feast of the Ascension

May 10, 1956